

Waitin` For the Spacetrain

I'm waitin' for the spacetrain
My sister called it so I can hear it howlin' in the night
Makin' it's way with a flickerin' light

Every train is a spacetrain
Every train is my home
Right on right on keep on rollin'
Right on right on keep on howlin'
And sing the same old song of pain

I hang my head out of the window
Catch my tears while I'm startin' to cry
And I can feel the bitin' wind blow
But all I can do is just say good bye

Every train is a spacetrain
Every train is my home
Right on, right on keep on rollin'
Right on, right on keep on howlin'
And sing the same old song of pain

One station here, one station there
I cannot stop it everywhere
My way is long, my way is strong
So I start dreaming for a song

Every train is a spacetrain
Every train is my home
Right on right on keep on rollin'
Right on right on keep on howlin'
And sing the same old song of gain

My Sister

My sister she takes the moment with sadness and love as well
My sister please take the moment with happiness and love as well

Cause the lion was born for the desert and the fish was born for the sea
All the birds were born for the sky and the roots give power to the tree

My sister I take the moment
with sadness and love as well
Cause sadness is my passion and love`s my lonely hell

No reason here to be lucky, no reason here to be glad No shooting star on my night sky and the ball and chain makes me sad

Bird Of Paradise

There`s a lantern shining through my window so bright
Cannot sleep listening how the wind blows I`m so tired
Maybe I buy me a pistol tomorrow and swear I kill this light
Maybe I go to the bar next corner and meet the bird of paradise

Only your silvern hair can bring me down
It makes me sleeping sweet all night long
All night long

There`s a lantern shining through my window so bright
Cannot sleep listening how the wind blows I`m so tired
Have you ever met the bird of paradise?
Can see him all night long laughing in your eyes
Can hear him singing in your voice

Don`t look in the mirror - the mirror always lies
Don`t look in the mirror - the mirror always lies
Always lies

There`s a lantern shining through my window so bright
Cannot sleep listening how the wind blows I`m so tired
